

I wish that there was greater access to broadband services over the phone line. Currently I live in a major metro area and do not have DSL option. As a result, I have only 1 choice of service and the price reflects it.